CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE

The contents of this facsimile are confidential and legally privileged and intended only for the above addressee. Should this facsimile be received in error by any person other than the addressee, the contents hereof may not be disclosed, copied or utilized in any manner whatsoever and the recipient is requested to notify this firm of the error and to return the original to the above address by post. All expenses incurred by the recipient for the return of the facsimile will be reimbursed.

Dear Sir,

We refer you to the above matter.

We note that you have failed to comply with the demand contained in our e-mail of 25 March 2011 and have accordingly been instructed to issue Summons against you in your personal capacity.

In addition to the above, our client instructs us that you have taken active and deliberate steps to slander and defame our client in an attempt to force our client to pay certain invoices which were fraudulently raised. Our client has invited you to institute proceedings in the appropriate forum, which invitation you have seemingly refused and have rather opted to use blackmail and intimidation.

In light of the above, we have received instructions to institute action in respect of the damages arising from your defamatory conduct. We are currently in the process of quantifying such damages and shall shortly be in a position to institute the appropriate legal proceedings.

It has become evident that your approach to the collection of your outstanding debt has now exceeded the bounds of legality. Your latest threats "to send lads" to the private residence of our client's employees to "pressurise" our client into paying sums of money is an example of your illegal "tactics". This threat can only be interpreted in one way and has accordingly been forwarded to the South African Police Service to be dealt with accordingly.

Yours faithfully

ABRAHAMS & GROSS INC.
